

The Honorable John C. Coughenour

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

IN RE: VALVE ANTITRUST LITIGATION

No. 2:21-cv-00563-JCC

DEFENDANT VALVE
CORPORATION'S ANSWER AND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES TO CONSOLIDATED SECOND
AMENDED CLASS ACTION
COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Defendant, Valve Corporation ("Valve") hereby answers Plaintiffs' Consolidated Second Amended Class Action Complaint (the "Complaint") as follows. Each allegation not specifically admitted herein is denied. All headings included herein are taken from the Complaint and are included only for convenience. To the extent any headings, tables, figures, or any unnumbered paragraphs in the Complaint contain any allegations, Valve denies those allegations. Valve reserves the right to amend this answer and affirmative defenses as this case proceeds.

OVERVIEW OF THE ACTION

1. Valve admits that millions of Americans play video games. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations

1 in paragraph 1, and therefore denies them. Valve specifically denies that 75% of $30 billion in
2 annual revenue flows through Valve.

3 2. Paragraph 2 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
4 extent a response is required, Valve admits that Steam enables gamers to obtain access to games
5 and other gamers and services. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 2.

6 3. Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 3 and footnote 1.

7 4. Paragraph 4 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
8 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 4.

9 5. Paragraph 5 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
10 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 5.

11 6. Valve admits that it began operating Steam at a time when most game sellers were 12 brick-and-mortar distributors. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief
13 as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 6, and therefore denies them.

14 7. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
15 the allegations in paragraph 7, and therefore denies them.

16 8. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 8.

17 9. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited website post, and 18 respectfully refers the Court to the website post for a complete statement of its contents. The 19 remainder of paragraph 9 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the 20 extent a response is required, Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 9.

21 10. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 10.

22 11. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 11.

23 12. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 12.

24 13. Paragraph 13 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
25 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 13.

26 14. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 14 and footnote 3.

1           15. Valve admits that Steam Keys are alphanumeric codes that provide access to
2 games. Valve further admits that Steam Keys are in some instances sold in other stores,
3 distributed to beta testers of games before launch, or provided to media interested in reviewing a
4 game. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 15.

5           16. Valve admits that Steam Keys are sometimes sold through retail venues other than 6 Steam, and admits the other allegations in paragraph 16.

7           17. Valve admits that it may restrict or cut off access to Steam Keys for violation of 8 Steam's rules. Valve denies all remaining allegations in paragraph 17.

9           18. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 18.

10          19. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 19.

11          20. Valve denies that "publishers" are "unjustifiably being banned from Steam."
12 Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
13 allegations in paragraph 20, and therefore denies them.

14          21. Paragraph 21 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the 15 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 21. Valve specifically
16 denies the existence of an "anticompetitive scheme" and the consequences of it that Plaintiffs 17 allege.

18          22. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 22.

19          23. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 23.

20          24. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 24.

21          25. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 25.

22          26. Paragraph 26 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
23 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 26.

PARTIES

27. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the location of Wolfire’s headquarters. Valve admits that Wolfire has entered into certain agreements with Valve. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 27.

28. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 28, and therefore denies them.

29. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 29, and therefore denies them.

30. Valve admits that it entered into an agreement with “Dark Catt Studios Holding, Inc.” The allegation that “DCS Interactive [was] bound by the terms of its parent DCS Holdings’ contracts with Valve” constitutes a legal conclusion to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of this assertion, and therefore denies it. Valve also lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 30 and footnote 4.

31. Paragraph 31 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve admits that it is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Washington with its principal place of business in Bellevue, Washington, that it develops games, operates Steam, designs and arranges for the manufacture of hardware, enters into a Steam Distribution Agreement (“SDA”) with some game publishers, and makes Steamworks Documentation available to them. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of allegation that it is “the world’s largest PC game distributor.” Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 31.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

32. Valve admits that Plaintiffs bring this action under Sections 4 and 16 of the Clayton Act, Section 2 of the Sherman Act, and Washington's Consumer Protection Act. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 32.

33. Paragraph 33 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 33.

34. Paragraph 34 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve admits that its headquarters are located in Bellevue, Washington, that it transacts business in the Western District of Washington, that it has contracted with publishers in the Western District of Washington, and that it has contacts with the Western District of Washington. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 34.

35. Paragraph 35 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve admits that it transacts business in the Western District of Washington., and denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 35.

36. Paragraph 36 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 36.

37. Paragraph 37 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve admits that it transacts business in the Western District of Washington, admits that in certain of its agreements with developers the parties agreed to resolve certain disputes in courts located in King County, Washington, and denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 37.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

I. BACKGROUND

38. Valve admits that a video game is an electronic game that can be played on a computing device such as a PC, gaming console, smartphone, or tablet. Valve lacks knowledge

1 or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph
2 38, and therefore denies them.

3 39. Valve admits only that video games can be played on different types of devices.
4 Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
5 allegations in paragraph 39, and therefore denies them.

6 40. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
7 the allegations in paragraph 40, and therefore denies them.

8 41. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
9 the allegations in paragraph 41, and therefore denies them.

10 42. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
11 the allegations in paragraph 42, and therefore denies them.

12 43. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
13 the allegations in paragraph 43 and footnote 5, and therefore denies them.

14 44. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
15 the allegations in paragraph 44, and therefore denies them.

16 45. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
17 the allegations in paragraph 45, and therefore denies them.

18 A. Valve Builds its Dominant Position in PC Game Distribution

19 46. Valve admits the allegations in paragraph 46.

20 47. Valve admits that Sierra originally published Half-Life and other PC games.
21 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 47.

22 48. Valve admits that its business changed after Steam's creation in 2003. Valve
23 admits that the quoted words in footnote 6 appear on the Valve website Plaintiffs cite and
24 respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve
25 admits the facts asserted in the quotation. Valve denies the remaining allegations in 26 paragraph 48.

1           49. Valve admits that it released Half-Life 2 in November 2004 and required the
2 Steam client to be installed on the user's PC to play that game. Valve further admits that upon
3 release consumers could purchase Half-Life 2 on Steam and from resellers, and could play it on
4 Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 49.

5           50. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article and respectfully
6 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the facts
7 asserted in the quotation. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 50 and footnote 7.

8           51. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 51.

9           52. Valve admits that it has entered into agreements with third parties to distribute
10 their games on Steam and sometimes receives a percentage of revenues as compensation. Valve
11 admits that there are over 50,000 games currently available on Steam, and that the majority of 12 them are third-party games. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 52 and 13 footnote 8.

14           53. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
15 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
16 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the facts asserted in the quotation, and
17 therefore denies them. Valve admits that Valve does not sell on Steam versions of games enabled 18 for other platforms. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 53 and footnote 9.

19           54. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 20 the allegation concerning Forbes' 2005 estimate of what Valve "grossed," and therefore denies 21 it. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the articles cited in footnotes 10-13, and
22 respectfully refers the Court to the articles for complete statements of their contents. Valve
23 denies the fact asserted in the quotation concerning its 2011 market share. Valve admits that
24 Mr. Newell made the statements attributed to him in paragraph 54. Valve denies the remaining
25 allegations in paragraph 54 and footnotes 10-13.
26

55. Valve admits that Steam is Valve's largest source of revenue. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 55 and footnotes 14 and 15.

56. Valve admits that it recorded 120 million active monthly players, 24.8 million peak concurrent users, and 2.6 million new purchasers per month in 2020. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the article cited in footnote 16, and respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the facts asserted in the quotation in footnote 16. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 56 and footnote 16.

57. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 57 and footnote 19, and therefore denies them.

58. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 58 and footnote 20.

59. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 59.

60. Paragraph 60 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 60.

B. Publishers Must Have Access to Steam and Steam Keys to Meaningfully Participate in the Market

61. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 61.

62. Valve admits that a Steam Key is an alphanumeric code generated by Valve "that provides access to a game hosted on Steam." Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 62.

63. Valve admits the allegations in paragraph 63.

64. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 64.

65. Valve denies that publishers must request Steam Keys. Valve further denies that all customers enable their games on Steam after obtaining Steam Keys. Valve admits the remaining allegations in paragraph 65.

66. Valve admits that other stores sell access to games through Steam Keys. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 66, and therefore denies them.

1           67. Valve admits that Valve’s competitors include Amazon, GameStop, Walmart,
2 Target, Green Man Gaming, Humble Bundle, and GOG. Valve lacks knowledge or information
3 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 67, and
4 therefore denies them.

5           68. Valve denies that the alternative stores identified in paragraph 67 do not provide a
6 PC game distribution channel independent of Steam and outside of Valve’s control, and denies
7 that these stores do not provide a significant competitive constraint on Valve. Valve lacks
8 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations
9 in paragraph 68 and footnotes 21 and 22, and therefore denies them.

10          69. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 69.

11          70. Valve admits that from time to time, some persons independent of Valve have 12 attempted to engage in fraudulent or otherwise improper conduct using Steam Keys. Valve lacks
13 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations
14 in paragraph 70, and therefore denies them.

15          71. Valve admits that a “grey market” for Steam Keys exists. Valve lacks knowledge
16 or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph
17 71, and therefore denies them.

18          72. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
19 the allegations in paragraph 72, and therefore denies them.

20          73. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 73.

21          74. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
22 the allegations in paragraph 74, and therefore denies them.

23          75. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
24 the allegations in paragraph 75, and therefore denies them.

1           76. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
2 the allegations of the existence of a “problem” and that Humble Bundle “solved” it in paragraph 3 76, and therefore denies them. Valve admits the remaining allegations in paragraph 76.

4           77. Valve denies all allegations in the first two sentences of paragraph 77. Valve lacks
5 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in the last 6 sentence of paragraph 77, and therefore denies them.

7           78. Valve admits that it eventually terminated the direct integration with Humble
8 Bundle alleged in paragraph 78. Valve lacks knowledge or information to form a belief as to the 9 truth of the remaining allegations in the last sentence of paragraph 78, and therefore denies them.
10 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 78.

11           79. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 79.

12           80. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
13 the allegations in paragraph 80 and footnote 23, and therefore denies them.

14           81. Valve denies the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 81. Valve admits
15 that some publishers use Steam Keys to provide review copies and promote their games. Valve
16 lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the remaining allegations in 17 paragraph 81, and therefore denies them.

18           82. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 82.

19           C. Valve Propagates Its Anticompetitive Rules and Pricing Through Its 20           Contracts with Publishers

21           83. Valve admits that Valve requires publishers wishing to market Steam-enabled 22 games to sign up as a Steamworks Partner with Valve. Valve denies the remaining allegations in 23 paragraph 83.

24           84. Valve admits that it contracts with some game publishers via an SDA. Valve
25 further admits that the Steamworks Documentation includes certain provisions about how to use
26 its software. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 84.

1           85. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the cited web page, and respectfully
2 refers the Court to the web page for a complete statement of its contents. Valve further admits
3 that publishers seeking to publish their games on Steam must create a Steamworks developer
4 account, agree to an SDA, and pay a Steam Direct fee for each game they seek to distribute on
5 Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 85.

6           86. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the cited web page and respectfully
7 refers the Court to the web page for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits that
8 Steamworks SDK helps publishers integrate their games for play on Steam and access certain
9 optional features if they choose to do so, and admits that publishers must make their Steam-
10 enabled games available for sale on Steam if they choose to sell Steam-enabled versions of those 11 games through any means. Valve further admits that SteamPipe is a Steamworks SDK tool that is 12 required to upload content to Steam. Valve further admits that persons or entities distributing
13 games on Steam in accordance with Valve's terms are often referred to as "Steamworks
14 partners" subject to some provisions in the Steamworks Documentation and SDA. Valve denies
15 the remaining allegations in paragraph 86.

16           87. Valve admits that the quoted words in footnote 27 appear in the SDA, and
17 respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve
18 admits that Steamworks Documentation includes requirements for publishers who release their 19 products on Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 87.

20           88. The term, "Steamworks Rules" in paragraph 88 is vague and ambiguous, and 21 Valve denies the allegations relating to them on this basis. Valve denies the remaining
22 allegations in paragraph 88.

23           89. Valve admits that, under the SDA, Valve retains a percentage of some sales on 24 Steam and that publishers set their own pricing for their games on Steam. Valve admits that it
25 made changes to its revenue share agreement as described in the website cited in footnote 29.
26 Valve denies that these changes are largely superficial. Valve lacks knowledge or information

1 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations concerning pricing decisions of third-
2 party game publishers, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in
3 paragraph 89 and footnote 29.

4 90. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 90.

5 II. RELEVANT MARKET

6 91. Valve admits that Plaintiffs allege that the relevant product market is the PC game
7 distribution market and that the relevant geographic market is at least as broad as the United
8 States. Valve denies that these are legally cognizable relevant markets.

9 A. The Relevant Product Market Is PC Game Distribution

10 92. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 92.

11 93. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 12 the allegations concerning the compatibility of “PC games” with “game consoles” and 13 consumers’ alternative uses for “PCs, consoles, and mobile devices,” and therefore denies them.
14 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 93.

15 94. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 16 the allegations concerning “factors driv[ing] consumers’ preferences,” and therefore denies them.
17 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 94.

18 95. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 19 the allegations concerning “consumer views” about and “use cases” for PC, console, and mobile
20 gaming, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 95.

21 96. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
22 the allegations in paragraph 96, and therefore denies them.

23 97. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
24 the allegations in paragraph 97, and therefore denies them.

1           98. Valve admits that over 50,000 games are currently available on Steam. Valve
2 lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
3 allegations in paragraph 98 and footnote 30, and therefore denies them.

4           99. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
5 the allegations in paragraph 99 and footnote 31, and therefore denies them.

6           100. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
7 the allegations in paragraph 100, and therefore denies them.

8           101. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
9 the allegations in paragraph 101, and therefore denies them.

10           102. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
11 the allegations in paragraph 102, and therefore denies them.

12           103. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
13 the allegations in paragraph 103, and therefore denies them.

14           104. Valve admits that games that allow online multiplayer gaming do not always
15 allow the players on each platform to game together across different hardware systems. Valve
16 lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
17 allegations in paragraph 104, and therefore denies them.

18           105. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
19 the allegations in paragraph 105 and footnote 32, and therefore denies them.

20           106. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 21 the allegations concerning other digital storefronts, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the
22 remaining allegations in paragraph 106.

23           107. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited document, and respectfully
24 refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits the facts
25 asserted in the quotations. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 107 and footnotes
26 33-35.

1           108. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
2 the allegations concerning factors that “affect playability” and “user experience” of video games
3 in paragraph 108, and therefore denies them. Valve also lacks knowledge or information
4 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations concerning the average size of mobile
5 games and size of “the most basic PC game,” and therefore denies them. Valve admits that
6 enhanced graphics and other features may add to a game’s data volume. Valve lacks knowledge
7 or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph
8 108 and footnotes 36 and 37, and therefore denies them.

9           109. Valve admits that publishers sometimes incur costs when porting their games
10 from one hardware system to another. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a
11 belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 109, and therefore denies them.

12           110. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
13 the allegations in paragraph 110, and therefore denies them.

14           111. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
15 the allegations in paragraph 111, and therefore denies them.

16           112. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
17 the allegations in paragraph 112, and therefore denies them.

18           113. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
19 the allegations in paragraph 113, and therefore denies them.

20           114. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
21 the allegations in paragraph 114, and therefore denies them.

22           115. Valve admits that analysts following the gaming industry use a variety of metrics
23 in their analyses. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth
24 of the remaining allegations in paragraph 115 and footnote 38, and therefore denies them.

25           116. Valve admits that the website Newzoo breaks the “Global Games market” into 26 three categories in the referenced market summary, and respectfully refers the Court to the

1 website for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient
2 to form a belief as to the accuracy of Newzoo’s analysis, or the basis therefor, and therefore
3 denies these allegations. Valve denies all remaining allegations in paragraph 116 and
4 footnote 39.

5 117. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
6 the allegations in paragraph 117, and therefore denies them.

7 118. Valve admits that Plaintiffs use “PC games” in the Complaint in the manner
8 described in paragraph 118. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 118.

9 119. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited document, and respectfully
10 refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies that the 11 quoted words are applicable to the analysis of market definition or other issues in this case.
12 Valve denies any remaining allegations in paragraph 119 and footnote 40.

13 120. Valve admits that, in the Epic case, it took the position that Valve did not compete
14 in the mobile application market. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 120.

15 121. Paragraph 121 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
16 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 121.

17 B. The Relevant Geographic Market Is at Least as Broad as the United States

18 122. Valve admits that it distributes games for sale over the Internet. Valve denies the 19 remaining allegations in paragraph 122, and further denies that an allegation of a geographic 20 market “at least as broad as the United States” is legally cognizable.

21 123. Valve is unable to determine the source of the allegations in paragraph 123 and
22 therefore denies them.

23 124. Valve admits that the quoted words in paragraph 124 appear on the cited website,
24 except that it currently refers to “132 million monthly active uses,” not 120 million. Valve
25 respectfully refers the Court to the website for a complete statement of its contents.
26

1           125. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the cited website, and respectfully
2 refers the Court to the website for a complete statement of its contents.

3           126. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the cited website, and respectfully
4 refers the Court to the website for a complete statement of its contents.

5           127. Valve admits that Steam hosts games from developers in many countries
6 throughout the world. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the 7 truth of the allegation of the number of countries in which contributors to Steam Workshop
8 reside, and therefore denies that allegation. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 9 127.

10           128. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
11 the allegations in paragraph 128 and footnote 45, and therefore denies them.

12 III. VALVE'S MARKET POWER

13           129. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
14 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
15 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the facts asserted in the quotation, and
16 therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 129 and footnote 46.

17           130. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 18 the allegation that "most third-party retailers are in fact selling Steam keys," and therefore denies 19 it. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 130.

20           131. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
21 the allegations in paragraph 131, and therefore denies them.

22           132. Valve denies that most publishers cannot avoid using Steam Keys (to make sales
23 outside the Steam Store) by self-publishing their game. Valve lacks knowledge or information
24 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 132, and 25 therefore denies them.
26

1           133. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
2 the allegations in paragraph 133.

3           134. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 134.

4           135. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 135.

5           136. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
6 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
7 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the facts asserted in the quotation, and
8 therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 136 and footnotes 47
9 and 48.

10           137. Valve admits that the quoted words are spoken in the cited video, and respectfully
11 refers the Court to the video for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or 12 information sufficient to form a belief regarding the facts asserted in the quotation, and therefore
13 denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 137 and footnote 49.

14           138. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
15 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
16 information sufficient to form a belief regarding the facts asserted in the quotation, and therefore
17 denies them. Valve admits that at one time during the COVID-19 pandemic, there were more
18 than 22 million users on Steam in a single day. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient 19 to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 138 and footnotes 50 and 20 51, and therefore denies them.

21           139. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited blog post, and respectfully
22 refers the Court to the blog post for complete statements of its contents. Valve denies the facts
23 asserted in the quotation. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 139 and footnotes
24 52-56.

1           140. Valve admits that Steam connects gamers to games, other gamers, and publishers.
2 Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
3 allegations in paragraph 140, and therefore denies them.

4           141. Valves admits that Steam includes social networking features, communities of 5 game "modders," and an achievement system. Valve denies the remaining allegations in
6 paragraph 141.

7           142. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited report and respectfully
8 refers the Court to the report for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
9 information sufficient to form a belief regarding the facts asserted in the quotation, and therefore
10 denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 142 and footnote 57.

11           143. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited publications, and 12 respectfully refers the Court to the publications for complete statements of their contents. Valve
13 lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief regarding the facts asserted in the 14 quotations, and therefore denies them. Valve admits that it collects certain data., e.g., as
15 described in the Steam Privacy Policy Agreement, https://store.steampowered.com
16 /privacy\_agreement/. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 143 and footnotes 58
17 and 59.

18           144. Valve admits only that it has the ability to refuse to feature games or otherwise
19 reduce a game's visibility on Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 144.

20           145. Valve admits only that it promotes its own games on Steam. Valve denies the 21 remaining allegations in paragraph 145.

22           146. Valve admits only that it has the ability to remove games from Steam after they 23 have launched. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 146.

24           147. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 25 the allegations in paragraph 147 and footnotes 60 and 61, and therefore denies them.
26

1           148. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
2 the allegations in paragraph 148, and therefore denies them.

3           149. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
4 the allegations in paragraph 149, and therefore denies them.

5           150. Valve admits that Steam currently has more than 50,000 games available. Valve
6 denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 150.

7           151. Paragraph 151 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
8 extent a response is required, Valve admits that it maintains a “Steam Workshop” and that Steam
9 Workshop users can create digital goods and modifications that can be sold to other gamers.
10 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 151 and footnote 63.

11           152. Valve admits that it made some payments to Steam Workshop participants and 12 discussed them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 152 and footnotes 64
13 and 65.

14           153. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 153.

15 IV. VALVE HAS UNLAWFULLY RESTRAINED TRADE AND MONOPOLIZED
16 THE RELEVANT MARKET

17           154. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 154.

18           155. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 155.

19 A. Value Requires Publishers to Agree to an Anticompetitive MFN

20           156. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 156.

21           157. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
22 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the facts
23 asserted in the quotations. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 157 and footnotes
24 66 and 67.

25           158. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 158.

26           159. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 159.

1                   1.       The Valve PMFN Creates a Price Floor

2           160.   Valve admits that MFNs can be procompetitive when they control costs and keep
3 down prices to end consumers. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief
4 as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 160, and therefore denies them.

5           161.   The allegation that the most-favored-nation clause “is not helping Valve control
6 costs and receive competitive prices for its inputs vis a vis its competitors” is vague and ambig-
7 uous, and Valve denies it on this basis. To the extent a response to this allegation is required,
8 Valve denies it. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 161.

9           162.   Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 162.

10          163.   Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 163.

11                   2.       Publishers Must Comply with Valve’s PMFN

12          164.   Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 164.

13          165.   Valve admits it has taken actions with respect to certain publishers’ compliance
14 (or lack thereof) with the Steamworks Documentation. Valve was unable to access the website
15 cited in footnote 68, and therefore cannot admit or deny whether the quoted language accurately
16 reflects its source. Valve is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the 17 truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 165 and footnote 68, and therefore denies them.

18          166.   Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the website cited in footnote 69,
19 except that the first bulleted sentence is not found in the Steam Keys Rules and Guidelines
20 section, but in the Overview section. Valve respectfully refers the Court to the document for a 21 complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 166.

22          167.   Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
23 the allegations in paragraph 167, and therefore denies them.

24          168.   Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited website post, and
25 respectfully refers the Court to the post for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits
26

1 that the words were contained in an earlier version of Valve's Steamworks Documentation.

2 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 168.

3 169. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited website post, and
4 respectfully refers the Court to the post for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits
5 that the quoted words are contained in Valve's Steamworks Documentation as of the date of this
6 Answer, although the quoted words are not italicized in the original. Valve denies the remaining
7 allegations in paragraph 169.

8 170. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited Tweets, and respectfully
9 refers the Court to the Tweets for complete statements of their contents. Valve denies the facts
10 asserted in the quotations. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 170 and footnotes
11 72 and 73.

12 171. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 171.

13 172. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 172, which describes DLC in a way that 14 is different from the SDAs and the definition of DLC quoted in paragraph 173.

15 173. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited document, and respectfully
16 refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents.

17 174. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited document, and respectfully
18 refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents.

19 175. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 175.

20 176. Valve denies that it imposes "restrictions" on DLC. Valve lacks knowledge or 21 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph
22 176, and therefore denies them.

23 177. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
24 the allegations in paragraph 177 and footnote 77, and therefore denies them.

25 178. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 178.

26 179. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 179.

1           180. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
2 the allegations in paragraph 180, and therefore denies them.

3           181. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
4 the allegations in paragraph 181, and therefore denies them.

5           182. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 182.

6           183. Valve denies that the two quoted paragraphs constitute the “Delivery clause” in 7 the SDA. Valve further denies that the first paragraph of the quotation in paragraph 128 appears
8 in the clause of the SDA cited in footnote 78. On the contrary, it is found in section 2.1 of the 9 SDA. Valve admits that the second paragraph of the quotation in paragraph 128 appears in the 10 clause of the SDA cited in footnote 78, but notes that it omits the first sentence of the paragraph.
11 Valve respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents.

12           184. Valve admits that it has some business interest in receiving updates to games
13 hosted on Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 184.

14           B. The Valve PMFN Suppresses Price Competition

15           185. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 185.

16           186. Valve denies that it maintains or enforces a PMFN. Valve lacks knowledge or
17 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph
18 186, and therefore denies them.

19           187. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 20 the remaining allegations in paragraph 187, and therefore denies them.

21           188. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 188.

22           189. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited Tweet, and respectfully
23 refers the Court to the Tweet for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the facts
24 asserted in the quotation. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to 25 the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 189 and footnote 79, and therefore denies 26 them.

1           190. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully
2 refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve lacks knowledge or
3 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the facts asserted in the quotation, and
4 therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 190 and footnote 80.

5           191. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 191.

6           192. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 192.

7           193. Valve denies that it imposes a PMFN. Valve lacks knowledge or information
8 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 193, and
9 therefore denies them.

10          194. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 194.

11          C. Valve Enforces the PMFN to Suppress Competition from Rival PC Game
12               Distributors

13          195. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 195.

14          196. Valve admits only that the copy of the screen reproduced in paragraph 196
15 appears to be an accurate reproduction of a screen asking for confirmation of a request for Steam
16 Keys and setting out certain terms. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 196.

17          197. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the screen reproduced in paragraph 18 196, and respectfully refers the Court to the image in paragraph 196 for a complete statement of 19 its contents. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 197.

20          198. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 198.

21          199. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 199.

22          200. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 200.

23          201. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 201.

24          202. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited post, and respectfully
25 refers the Court to the post for a complete statement of its contents. Valve denies the remaining
26 allegations in paragraph 202.

1           203. Valve admits that Steamworks includes discussion forums where game publishers
2 can interact with Valve employees. Valve further admits that the quoted words appeared in
3 forum postings. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 203.

4           204. Valve admits that the quoted words appeared in forum postings. Valve denies the
5 remaining allegations in paragraph 204.

6           205. Valve admits a Valve employee made the statement quoted in paragraph 205.

7           206. Paragraph 206 contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the
8 extent a response is required, Valve denies the allegations in paragraph 206.

9           207. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
10 the allegations in paragraph 207, and therefore denies them.

11           208. Valve denies that it maintains or enforces a PMFN. Valve admits that a call
12 between Wolfire's owner and Tom Giardino took place on December 3, 2018, but denies
13 Plaintiffs' allegations regarding the content of the call or what transpired during it. Valve lacks
14 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations
15 in paragraph 208, and therefore denies them.

16           209. Valve admits that Dark Catt sold its game on Steam. Valve denies that Dark Catt
17 was "banned" because it "offered its game for a temporary lower price on Humble Bundle."
18 Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to whether Dark Catt offered
19 its game for a temporary lower price on Humble Bumble, and therefore denies this allegation. By 20 way of further answer, Valve ended its business relationship with Dark Catt because Dark Catt
21 manipulated reviews of its game in violation of the Steamworks Documentation and Valve terms
22 including without limitation the SDA. Valve also denies that there is any notice requirement for 23 removing games from Steam. Valve specifically denies that it engaged in any anticompetitive
24 conduct. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 209 and footnote 82 and 25 respectfully refers the Court to the SDA for a complete statement of its contents.

26           210. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 210.

1           211. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 211.

2           D. Steam Keys Reinforce Valve's Market Power by Providing Monitoring of 3           Publishers' Sales on Other Stores and Enforcement of the MFN

4           212. Valve admits that Steam Keys provide a mechanism for publishers of Steam-
 5 enabled games to market those games on non-Steam storefronts. Valve admits that it has the sole
 6 ability to generate Steam keys. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 212.

7           213. Valve admits that it provides Steam Keys at no cost to publishers. Valve denies
 8 the remaining allegations in paragraph 213.

9           214. Valve admits that publishers are able to opt out of taking Steam Keys. Valve
 10 denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 214.

11           215. Valve admits that it provides Steam Keys at no cost to publishers. Valve denies
 12 the remaining allegations in paragraph 215.

13           216. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 216.

14           217. Valve admits that Steam Keys provide a means for consumers to access games on 15 Steam, and Valve has access to some limited data about gameplay. Valve denies the remaining
 16 allegations in paragraph 217.

17           218. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited SDA provision, and
 18 respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve
 19 further admits that it earns no revenue share when a publisher sells games on a site other than 20 Steam that can be played on Steam using Steam Keys. Valve admits that consumers may use
 21 Steam Keys to obtain access to such games on Steam, and Valve admits that it sometimes retains 22 a revenue share on some associated purchases within such games after consumers access them on
 23 Steam. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 218.

24           219. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited Steamworks
 25 Documentation provisions, and respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete
 26 statement of its contents. Valve admits that it amended the Onboarding section of the

1 Steamworks Documentation to reflect the quoted text in October 2021. Valve denies the
2 remaining allegations in paragraph 219.

3 220. Valve admits that it has the sole ability to create Steam Keys. Valve denies all
4 remaining allegations in paragraph 220.

5 221. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the Steamworks Documentation,
6 and respectfully refers the Court to the document for a complete statement of its contents. Valve
7 denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 221 and footnote 86.

8 222. Valve admits that the words, “normal size batches” and “Steam sales don’t reflect 9 a need for as many keys as you’re distributing” appear in the message reproduced in paragraph
10 223, and respectfully refers the Court to the message for a complete statement of its contents.
11 Valve denies the facts asserted in the quotations. Valve denies the remaining allegations in 12 paragraph 222 and footnote 87.

13 223. Valve admits that a screenshot of a message appears in paragraph 223. Valve
14 denies all other allegations in paragraph 223.

15 224. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 224 and footnote 88.

16 225. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 225.

17 226. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 226.

18 227. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 227.

19 228. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 228.

20 229. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
21 the allegations in paragraph 229, and therefore denies them.

22 230. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 23 the allegation that Dark Catt “has had multiple requests for Steam keys from interested
24 publishers wanting to trial its game,” and therefore denies this allegation. Valve denies the 25 remaining allegations in paragraph 230.
26

231. Valve admits that it took certain actions with respect to Idalgame based on its use of Steamworks tools. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 231 and footnote 89.

232. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 232.

233. Valve admits that Studio Wildcard published Ark: Survival Evolved on Steam in 2017. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations concerning the impact of Valve's action on Studio Wildcard, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 233 and footnote 90.

234. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited article, and respectfully refers the Court to the article for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits that it took certain actions with respect to certain games in November 2019. Valve further admits it removed the game Electric Highways. The phrase "positive reviews" is vague and ambiguous, and Valve denies the allegations relating to them on this basis. To the extent an answer to this allegation is required, Valve denies it. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 234 and footnote 91 and 92.

235. Valve denies all allegations in Paragraph 235.

E. Valve Uses Its Review System to Enforce Its Contractual Restrictions and Discipline Publishers

236. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 236.

237. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 237.

238. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 238.

239. Valve admits that 4A Games and Deep Silver announced an exclusive with Epic for its new release, Metro Exodus, after having made the game available for pre-sale on Steam. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations concerning exclusivity and pricing of Metro Exodus on non-Steam platforms, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 239.

1           240. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited articles, and respectfully
2 refers the Court to the articles for complete statements of their contents. Valve denies the
3 remaining allegations in paragraph 240 and footnote 93.

4           241. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
5 the allegations in paragraph 241 and footnote 95, and therefore denies them.

6           242. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 7 the allegations concerning the gameplay of Metro Exodus and the impact of a user base “being
8 spread out,” and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 242.

9           243. Valve admits that Gearbox announced an exclusive on a competing platform for 10 Borderlands 3 in April 2019. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as 11 to the truth of the allegations concerning the effect of this announcement on Steam user activity,
12 and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 243 and 13 footnote 96.

14           244. Valve admits that the quoted words appear in the cited website post, and 15 respectfully refers the Court to the website post for a complete statement of its contents. Valve
16 lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the facts asserted in 17 the quotations, and therefore denies them. Valve admits that it cannot control posts by third
18 parties on Reddit. Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 244 and footnote 97.

19           245. Valve admits that Ys Net announced an exclusive on a competing platform for its 20 Shenmue 3 game. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth
21 of the allegations concerning Ys Net’s fundraising campaign to develop the game and the impact
22 its announcement had on Steam user activity, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the 23 remaining allegations in paragraph 245 and footnote 98.

24           246. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 25 the allegations concerning the effect of Metro Exodus’s announcement of an exclusive and the 26

1 general impact of negative reviews, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining
2 allegations in paragraph 246 and footnote 99.

3 247. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
4 the allegations in paragraph 247, and therefore denies them.

5 248. Valve admits that, with respect to games on Steam that are not free of charge,
6 only reviews from users who purchased a game on Steam are used to calculate its Steam score.
7 Valve denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 248.

8 249. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 249.

9 250. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of 10 the allegations concerning the incentives of publishers and the importance of Steam reviews for 11 game sales and visibility, and therefore denies them. Valve denies the remaining allegations in 12 paragraph 250.

13 251. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
14 the allegations in paragraph 251, and therefore denies them.

15 252. Valve admits that the quoted words appear on the cited website, and respectfully
16 refers the Court to the website for a complete statement of its contents. Valve admits the facts
17 asserted in the quotations. Valve further admits that it implemented new policies concerning its 18 examination of user reviews and may hide certain reviews that are “off-topic.” Valve denies the
19 remaining allegations in paragraph 252.

20 253. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 253.

21 254. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 254.

22 255. Valve admits that it does not post game reviews itself. Valve denies the remaining
23 allegations in paragraph 255.

24 256. Valve lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of
25 the allegations in paragraph 256 and footnote 102, and therefore denies them.

26 257. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 257.

V. ANTICOMPETITIVE EFFECTS

21 COUNT FOUR

22 Violation of Washington Consumer Protection Act (RCW 19.86)

23 425. Valve incorporates its answers to the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in 24 this paragraph.

25 426. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 426.

26 427. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 427.

1 428. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 428.

2 429. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 429.

3 430. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 430.

4 431. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 431.

5 432. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 432.

6 433. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 433.

7 434. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 434.

8 435. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 435.

9 436. Valve denies all allegations in paragraph 436.

10 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

11 437. Valve denies that Plaintiffs are entitled to any relief whatsoever from Valve and 12 further denies all allegations contained in the section of Plaintiffs' Consolidated Amended Class
13 Action Complaint titled "Prayer for Relief."

14 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

15 For its affirmative defenses to Plaintiffs' Consolidated Amended Class Action
16 Complaint, Valve alleges as follows:

17 FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

18 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, because Plaintiffs have failed to take all 19 necessary, reasonable, and appropriate actions to mitigate their alleged damages, if any.
20 Plaintiffs, through the exercise of reasonable diligence, could have mitigated their alleged 21 damages by seeking out other distribution channels for their games or more aggressively
22 marketing their games through self-distribution and on other platforms, including but not limited
23 to the other platforms Plaintiffs identify in the Complaint, and—at least as to Dark Catt—by 24 refraining from the review manipulation as stated in Valve's Second Affirmative Defense.
25 Alternatively, any damages sustained by Plaintiffs, which Valve denies, must be reduced by the 26

1 amount that such damages would have been reduced had Plaintiffs exercised reasonable
2 diligence in mitigating their damages.

3 SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

4 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of unclean hands. While
5 Dark Catt alleges it was banned from Steam after offering a game for sale at a lower price
6 outside of Steam, Steam in fact ended its business relationship with Dark Catt because Dark Catt
7 engaged in review manipulation. Dark Catt's review manipulation, which was a clear violation
8 of Steam's policies, included without limitation at least four glowing reviews of Dark Catt's own
9 game that Dark Catt posted in an attempt to mislead the public and boost sales.

10 THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

11 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the applicable four-year statutes of 12 limitations. See 15 U.S.C. § 15b and RCW 19.86.120. Plaintiffs' and class members' alleged 13 injuries may, in whole or in part, be attributed to alleged anticompetitive conduct of Valve,
14 which Valve denies, before January 28, 2017. Plaintiffs and class members with such claims may 15 still be within the Complaint's class definition if they made payments to Valve on or after 16 January 28, 2017, Complaint ¶ 375, yet their claims may be barred in whole or in part because 17 they arise from alleged conduct and events that occurred before January 28, 2017 and therefore 18 may fall outside the applicable limitations periods.

19 FOURTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

20 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, because any alleged injury or damages
21 that Plaintiffs may have suffered, which Valve denies, were not caused by Valve but are losses
22 attributable to the consequences of Dark Catt's misconduct as stated in Valve's Second
23 Affirmative Defense, as well as to changes in competitive conditions and the demand for 24 Plaintiffs' games.

25 FIFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

26 Plaintiffs are not entitled to injunctive relief as they have an adequate remedy at law.

1 SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

2 The claims alleged in the Complaint may not be properly maintained or certified as a
3 class action, because even if Plaintiffs stated claims for violations of sections 1 and 2 of the 4 Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1, 2, and the Washington Consumer Protection Act, RCW 19.86, the 5 proposed class fails to satisfy the requirements of numerosity, commonality, typicality, and
6 adequacy of representation of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), or the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b),
7 and Dark Catt's misconduct described in Valve's Second Affirmative Defense establishes that
8 Plaintiffs are neither fair nor adequate representatives of the proposed class.

9 SEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

10 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, insofar as Plaintiffs make claims or seek
11 remedies that conflict with, are barred by, or are waived by the terms of Plaintiff's agreements
12 with Valve, including without limitation by reason of Dark Catt's misconduct described in 13 Valve's Second Affirmative Defense.

14 EIGHTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

15 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, insofar as Valve's freedom to contract
16 would be infringed were the Court to enforce a judgment against it.

17 NINTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

18 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, because Valve's revenue sharing
19 percentage is commensurate with Steam's value to game publishers.

20 TENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

21 Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, because Valve has no duty to deal. As 22 long as Valve has a valid business reason for the terms it attaches to its Steam Keys, which it 23 does, those terms are not unlawful.

ELEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, because they involve trade or commerce with foreign nations to which the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1, 2, and the Washington Consumer Protection Act, RCW 19.86, do not apply.

JURY DEMAND

Pursuant to Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Valve demands a trial by jury of all claims and issues so triable.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, having fully answered Plaintiffs' Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint, Valve prays for the following relief:

A. An order dismissing Plaintiffs' Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint against Valve with prejudice;

B. An award of all its attorneys' fees and costs to the extent permitted by law; and

C. For such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.
